Dearest Lib:

Will this week ever end?
Although last Thursday night is firmly planted in my mind, it seems as if it were last year.

A cure for sleepiness? Honey, don't you know that if I knew one I would try it out on myself first? In other words, I've not found such a cure. The more one sleeps the more he wants to sleep.

I received a nice long letter from Wallace today - I mean yesterday. He told me of his visit to Fayetteville & Barrow Springs. It will not be long before his exams so I imagine he'll be busy from now on. I remember my feelings (mostly dread) about this time last year.

The Detachment put in their applications for furloughs today - Me in the bunch. If things work out I will get six days Dec. 28th - Jan. 3rd. The boys on each ward had to work out their respective schedule. With Mark agreeing & hard feelings I might have worked mine so I would have Christmas Day but due to the short distance to home and the fact that Jones (my associate) lives 300 miles from his home we worked it out as stated above. I'm still hoping to be at home at night (more probably around Raiford) and get off a few hours for dinner Christmas Day. It has not been stated definitely but from all indications we will not go on night duty until after Christmas. Hope not.

Remembers Jewels? Elegg. M.P.'s friend - He just called & wanted to know if I was going over Sat. night. I told him yes. By what means I don't know. Would it be o.k. with you Miss Rawick?

I went to the show last night "Vulvoly partners." It was good, but it seemed to have ended ~~too~~ soon. The comedy was good too "The bear in the Air Corps" or something like that. That's my speed.

Jones turned in to quarters this morning (sore toe) - ~~very~~ painful - so I'd better ^{get to} sleep to prepare for another hard day. Write!

I love you - too,
Ken
